

JUCE Monthly Report

The California Women's Conference was begun in 1985 by California Gov. George Deukmejian. Its popularity increased significantly after the 2007 election of Arnold Schwarzenegger as governor of California, with the support of his then wife, Maria Shriver. Some of the speakers over the years at the California Women's Conference have included the spouses of presidential candidates (2008): Jeri Thompson, Michelle Obama, Cindy Hensley McCain, Elizabeth Edwards and Ann Romney. Other speakers from past years include Tony Blair, Sandra Day O'Connor, and the Dalai Lama. One aspect of the conference is an award ceremony for women who are making a positive contribution for women in society today.

Sada K and her award

JUCE nominated two of our hosts, Sada K and Kristen Dalton Wolfe, as women who are making a positive impact on women today. Both of these truly deserving young women were honored at this year's California Women's Conference. It was exciting to see two of our own who are living for God have a voice in this secular arena. Both women spoke about their faith and included JUCE in their bios as they were honored on stage for their contributions. JUCE was also given a place to set up banners and tape at the event where we invited participants to tape special messages about their mothers for Mother's Day that we posted on social media.

Sheri Rose Shepherd

This past month JUCE also partnered with best-selling author, speaker, and former Miss USA contestant Sheri Rose Shepherd to tape short inspirational pieces for young women that we are preparing to post on social media later this summer.

We continued taping great JUCE Live and JUCE Live After Party programs. This month some of guests included Marc Wymore and the Young, bilingual (Spanish) worship leader Nicole Garcia, Shear Love International founders Dianna and Kaylie, Rod Jonas (marketing director) of Shark Wheels, featured on Shark Tank, and YouTube music duo Day n Ari.

JUCE invited teen celebrity Tyler Sellers to take over the JUCE Instagram feed for a day to give us a slice of the day in the life leading up to his appearance on JUCE Live. This Instagram takeover was a hit as we were able to do some cross promotion on Tyler's page and introduce some of his followers to JUCE.

JUCE also taped and produced our monthly episodes of XVZ, TX10, Rewind, Hot off the Press, and four new episodes of The Chuckie Perez Show. We are scheduled to tape the May installments of The Crew later this month.
