

Open Door Ministries

Open Door to Success (ODS) serves the poor of Denver by offering a job readiness-training program with a support strategy that will enable participants to be gainfully employed. The primary purpose of ODS is to enable participants to be successful in finding and maintaining meaningful employment. (Photo Above: David Warren, Executive Director of Open Door Ministries)

This way to success →

Providence House is an 18-month program designed to empower single men and women who are seeking life-long recovery, self-sufficiency, and spiritual growth. Through an environment of structured accountability and authentic community, their home gives you an opportunity to lay a new foundation for the rest of your life. (Photo Below: Derek Kuykendall, Executive Director & Jennifer Sheedy, Providence House Director)

Joy House serves women and children coming out of domestic violence. This safe haven and their live-in mentors offer you and your children a stable, nurturing environment to recover, grow and become financially independent. Joy House believes in the power of love and prayer. (Middle photo below: Derek Kuykendall, Executive Director of Providence Network & Dana Jones, Director of Joy House.)

Mission: To heal broken lives from the inside out through faith-based transformational housing communities.

