

Matthew and Laurie hosted Dave Stotts from popular TBN reality show Drive Thru History.

– Leon Fontaine hosted Praise the Lord with guests Paul Cole, Doug Stringer, Michael Murphy, and Robert Barriger, with music by Colin & Paige Edge.

– Dwight Thompson hosted Praise the Lord with guests Maury Davis, Todd Keene, and Scott Camp, with music by Daron Farmer.

– Matthew and Laurie Crouch hosted two installments of Inside the Trinity Family of Networks from the KDTX studios, welcoming Dave Stotts from Drive Thru History, along with YouTube sensation Jefferson Bethke.

During November popular TBN program Creation in the 21st Century, hosted by David Rives and taped at the KDTX studios, hosted a number of informative and interesting guests. Bruce Malone (pictured) discussed efforts to censor science in public schools, noting that we are “fearfully and wonderfully made” rather than merely evolved. Dr. Jonathan Sarfati stressed the importance of a historical Genesis, pointing out that even Jesus quoted from Genesis. Russ Miller reminded viewers that science, by definition, must be observable and repeatable, noting that evolution is neither of those. And Dr. Tommy Mitchell with Answers In Genesis explained how Noah’s flood was an extremely difficult historic event for Noah and his family — not just a rainbow-framed, animal-filled cartoon as popular culture often pictures it.

Several programs for the new TBN Salsa network were taped at TBN's KDTX Dallas studios in November, including Raising the Standard with hosts Dr. Andrea Ramirez and Danny Cancino. This exciting program inspires viewers to strive for a higher education, and includes segments with educators, mentors, and pastors, along with encouraging video roll-ins. We also taped segments for The Hope

Connection with host Bishop Harry Jackson, a program that promotes racial reconciliation within our communities. Recent segments featured interviews with leaders who are making a difference in their own communities, including Mike Hayes, Dutch Sheets, Angel Nuñez, and Lance Wallnau.

A number of popular TBN and Church Channel programs are taped at TBN's beautiful Shiloh Ranch studios near Dallas. During November they included Switch on Your Brain with Dr. Caroline Leaf (pictured) and Prophetic Whisper with longtime TBN programmer Aquilla Nash.

Trinity Music City
WPGD-TV50 — Nashville, Tennessee
(reaching over one million households)

Trinity Music City's special Christmas events kicked off November 27th with visitors welcome most nights through the holiday season to stroll through the beautifully decorated grounds and enjoy the great Christmas lights and music.

Jason Crabb hosted a great night of music, ministry, entertainment, and interviews that thrilled the audience and had everyone in the Christmas spirit. Guests for the program included Rhonda Vincent, David Britton, Jon and Val Guerra, Collin Raye, Pastor Aaron Crabb, and Danny Gokey. It was a wonderful night of music and ministry!

David Rives (center) with Pastor Mike Glenn, Jean Watson, and Dave Cleveland.

David Rives hosted a Local Praise the Lord program at Trinity Music City. Among the outstanding guests were internationally acclaimed singer/songwriter and classically trained violinist Jean Watson; one of Nashville's premier guitarists, Dave Cleveland; and multi-Dove Award winner and bass singer Christian Davis. In addition, Mike Glenn, Senior Pastor of Brentwood Baptist Church, gave an encouraging message.

Trinity Music City's studio was used to tape several episodes for the exciting new JUCETV program Stronger, hosted by author and pastor Clayton King (pictured). The program addresses issues facing today's teens and young adults, Local youth groups were invited in to be part of the live studio audience for these tapings.

Hope Loftis, host of WPGD's Joy in Our Town civic affairs program, welcomed some very informative guests last month. Anthony Holt, Sumner County Executive, talked about school building projects and growth within his county. Jeff Parsley and Barbara Burk of the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society and spoke about Hodgkin's and non-Hodgkin's Lymphomas, including signs to look for and treatment options. Shawna Winham, Education Coordinator for TriStar Hendersonville Medical Center, also covered health, addressing some breast cancer issues, as well as addressing influenza.

KPAZ-TV21 — Phoenix, Arizona
(reaching 1,855,000 households)

The Anderson Family from Living Word Bible Church in Mesa, Arizona shared their favorite Christmas memories and what Christmas is all about during the KPAZ's local Praise the Lord Christmas special.

November was another great production month for local programming in Phoenix. KPAZ produced a very special Praise the Lord Christmas program featuring the Anderson Family from Living Word Bible Church in Mesa, Arizona. Drs. Tom and Maureen Anderson hosted their sons, Pastor Scot Anderson, Pastor Jason Anderson, and their families in a great talk about the Christmas season, holiday traditions, and why we celebrate this blessed season. Grandchildren Laken and Katy Anderson sang "Angels We Have Heard On High," and the littlest Anderson, Savannah, sang a very sweet song called "Happy Birthday Jesus."

Savannah Anderson sings "Happy Birthday, Jesus."

Host Vanessa Rose Valero with Dru Hammer of the Hammered Heart Foundation, who discussed the need for foster care and adoptive parents in Arizona.

Throughout November KPAZ's Joy in Our Town public affairs program, hosted by Vanessa Rose Valero, featured a number of great informative programs of interest to area viewers. Karen Callahan of Genesis City talked about the dangers and opportunities for at risk youth in our community. Jim Brewer with the Arizona Chapter of the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society talked about cancer research in Arizona. Dru Hammer from the Hammered Heart Foundation discussed the need for foster and adoptive parents in Arizona. Lucian Spataro from the Joe Foss Institute discussed the need for civics education in high school. Yomaira Diaz with the Arizona Department of Health Services shared with viewers how to properly install a car seat and explained safe sleep for infants to prevent SIDS. And Carrie Smith with the Foundation for Senior Living talked about how seniors can age well.

KDOR-TV17 — Tulsa, Oklahoma
(reaching over 526,000 households)

KDOR taped some local Praise the Lord programs in November, including one hosted by Pastor Marcus Howard (pictured, center) of MyChurch Walk of Faith in Tulsa. Special guests for the this program included Apostle Illinda Jackson from the Secret Place Community Church, and Greta Zuniga, who shared how coming to Raising the Standard, a ministry of the Secret Place, restored her life and gave her hope. Greta shared that she is now confident in her relationship with Christ and she is moving into a hope-filled future!!

KDOR's Joy in Our Town programs for November focused on the homeless in the Tulsa area. Tulsa proper has more than 6,500 homeless and Oklahoma ranks in the top states for the number of homeless. Among the guests welcomed by Joy in Our Town host Lisa Harris was the Rev. Steven Whitaker, Executive Director of John 3:16 Mission. John 3:16 is the only gospel based homeless mission outreach in our community. It has been under the leadership of Pastor Steve for decades and they make a difference! Relying on the truth and freedom found in the Word of God, it is definitely one of the most effective ministries in helping the homeless of our community to truly be restored back to life — physically, emotionally, and spiritually.

Joy in Our Town host Lisa Harris with Steven Whitaker of Tulsa's John 3:16 Mission.

KTBW-TV20 — Seattle, Washington
(reaching 1.8 million households)

Seattle Praise the Lord guests included (L-R) musician Seth Headley, graphics artist Chevy Cortez, host and pastor Ray Hampton, builder Todd Quinn, publisher Athena Dean Holtz, and motivational speaker and author, Debrena Jackson Gandy.

TBN's Seattle full-power station, KTBW, is known throughout the community for its entertaining, inspirational, and impacting local Praise the Lord programs. November was no exception as Dr. Ray Hampton, pastor of Seattle International Church and Dream Center, hosted a special Praise the Lord program with the theme "What Is God Doing in Your Life as an Entrepreneur?" Guests included successful Christian publisher Athena Dean Holtz, talented graphics artist Chevy Cortez, motivational speaker and author Debrena Jackson Gandy, successful builder Todd Quinn, and singer-songwriter Seth Headley. KTBW viewers were inspired and motivated as the guests talked about how God has blessed and prospered them in their businesses, even in the midst of challenges and trying circumstances.

KNMT-TV24 — Portland, Oregon
(reaching 1,185,000 households)

KNMT's local NW Praise the Lord program features taped services from a number of dynamic congregations throughout the Portland area. One of the recent additions to the rotation has been Crossroads Church of nearby Vancouver, whose energetic young pastor, Daniel Fusco (pictured, right), is treating our viewers to some great preaching and ministry.

KNMT's Joy in Our Town program featured a number of important topics:

Chris Bouneff, Executive Director of the Oregon Chapter of from N.A.M.I. (National Alliance on Mental Illness) gave us a lot of insight into mental illness and helped us better understand those who are challenged by it.

Former KNMT Station Manager Adolfo Carbaja (pictured, right), an ordained deacon with the Roman Catholic Church, discussed the Winter Housing Overflow project, through which local churches unite to serve the homeless population by providing sanctuary from the winter elements.

Dr. Greg Romine of Called to Rescue discussed the horrible tragedy of human (sex) trafficking and gave some important tips how to keep children safe from predators.

WWTO-TV35 — Chicago, Illinois
(reaching 2.5 million households)

WWTO's state-of-the-art studios regularly host tapings of TBN Salsa's Praise the Lord program. November 20th was one of those special nights as local pastor Larry Perez of U-Turn Covenant Church hosted guests Kaitrin Valencia of Dream Center Chicago; Pastor Davie Hernandez of Defenders Boston Church; Noel Castellanos, CEO of Chicago's Christian Community Development Association; and Pastor John Zayas, of GAP Community Center. Worship was lead by U-Praise Ministries and Arlyne Gonzalez. Pastor Perez inspired the studio audience with a moving sermon about God's heart and His love for all people.

Apostle Kevin Cunningham of New Vision of Victory International Ministries hosted a local Praise the Lord program with Pastors Mike and Nancy Thomason of River of Life Church in Aurora Illinois; Dr. John King Hill of World Harvesters Outreach Ministries; Apostle Charles N'Difon of Christ Love Ministries International; Pastor William Turner of Victory Outreach; and Grace Williams, worship leader at Lifehouse Worship Center in Orange County California.

November 13th WWTO hosted a special concert tour featuring gospel artists Denita Gibbs, Kefia Rollerson, Maurice Griffin, Marica Chisolm, and Algeron Wright. The studio audience was moved by the anointed performances and ministry.

WGTW-TV48 — Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
(reaching nearly 3 million households)

WGTW, TBN's Philadelphia full-power station, regularly partners with ministries throughout the community to provide crucial outreach to needy people in the community. Media Food Bank is one of those outreaches. Directed by Bonnie Scarborough, the food bank meets the food and clothing needs of hundreds of individuals and families each month, and WGTW is right in the middle helping out. Recently word went out around the community that that Media Food Bank was in short supply of essential items. The community came together in record numbers and within days the food bank was overflowing and able to continue supplying food and clothing to families in need. TBN and WGTW pitched in with both food and clothing items.

Bonnie Scarborough of the Media Food Bank receives bags of clothing donated by WGTW.

Anna's Place, located in Chester, Pennsylvania, is another outreach WGTW partners with. A community center open to the residents of this impoverished city, Anna's Place is a safe haven for those who need food, clothing, and social interaction. This facility is headed by the Sisters of St. Francis, Aston, Pennsylvania. "When we contribute to Anna's Place we know that lives are touched," said WGTW station manager Michal Curry.

WGTW Viewer Comments:

- "I daily watch programs on TBN and it has greatly strengthened my walk with the Lord. God bless you all as you serve Him." – Sandy
- "Thank you for all the good work you do spreading the Gospel around the world. I watch your programs all the time. They are wonderful. Thank you and God bless you." – Walter
- "I'm an eighty-four year old woman. TBN is my church." – Nancy
- "I thank God for all of you and your obedience unto the Lord. TBN keeps me refreshed." – Inmate in Delaware Prison

WMWC-TV53 — Quad Cities/Moline, Illinois
(reaching nearly 310,000 households)

WMWC has a new station manager, Erinn Hartwell, who takes over for Tammy Robinson, who has moved to California with her husband, Coach D, to take a new position working with Matthew and Laurie Crouch at TBN's international headquarters in Costa Mesa. Erinn noted that Tammy's influence on staff and WMWC program partners "has been substantial, and she possesses an excellent record of partner relations and organization.... As the new incoming station manager, I speak for everyone here at WMWC when I say Tammy has been the role model we needed to move WMWC ahead. We have seen and benefited from her exceptional organizational skills, her ability to wade through even the most complex negotiation, and her dedication to the station.

Among the great guests for WMWC's Joy in Our Town program in November were Wayne and Jeanine Allen of Freedom Ministries of the Quad Cities, who spoke with host Lori Pearce about true love and how spouses can also be best friends. Jeanine explained that a marriage is healthiest when a husband and a wife can talk openly and honestly discuss issues. Wayne added that it's a heart connection with each other, knowing how to care more about your spouse than yourself. Jeanine said that so many marriages are in trouble because couples don't know how to give or receive love. Couples fail to communicate and withdraw from one another. Wayne explained that he has seen many couples who have been together for years but don't understand what true love is. He said that for couples to have real intimacy on a heart level they must first resolve inner conflicts from their pasts. Jeanine said that it's just as important to counsel young couple thinking about marriage as it is people who have been married a while. Equipping couples with the right skills and knowledge will help them grow into a healthy and wholesome marriage.

KAAH-TV26 — Honolulu, Hawaii
(reaching almost 450,000 households)

KAAH's station manager, Cheryl Witbeck, participated in a "HallowHim" festival in Molokai on October 31st. KAAH partnered with Aloha Church to donate prizes and gifts for kids attending the Halloween alternative. The church said that the goal of the event was to provide a "festive and vibrant" atmosphere for children and families to celebrate "the love of God through his son Jesus Christ by reflecting His light on a dark night."

WMPV-TV21 — Mobile, Alabama
(reaching 541,000 households)

Local pastor Brad Sullivan hosted a local Praise the Lord program from the WMPV studios, welcoming several women from the Home of Grace women’s treatment center in Mobile. The ministry was birthed through Sis. Doris Littleton in her home with just a few ladies. The students and director talked about how women in the program find freedom from drugs and alcohol through the real hope in Jesus Christ. Home of Grace and partnering churches in the community speak transformation into the lives of the students. This is a comprehensive 12 week program that has ministered to over 10,000 ladies in the past forty years.

Pastor Sullivan also welcomed the Rev. J.T. Guyton, who shared about how God anointed him to preach the gospel at seven years old. Pastor Guyton was sick with leukemia and was told that he was not going to live, but God told his father that he was going to be healed and that his son would preach the gospel. God has used him tremendously to spread His Word all over the area. He quoted a word from Manley Beazley: “Faith is acting like it is so, even though it is not so, so that it will be so, because God said so.” Pastor Guyton emphasized that we must remember that God is the same yesterday, today, and forever.

Praise the Lord host Pastor Brad Sullivan welcomed the Rev. J.T. Guyton.

On November 6th WMPV hosted a local Praise the Lord program featuring “An Evening of Worship.” The event was hosted by Apostle Ernest Gwinn of the Church of Glory in Mobile, Alabama. Among the musical guests were a group of sisters from Pensacola, Florida called “Rejoice,” who sing praise and worship in three part harmony. Another guest was Gary Wallace of Harvest Church in Mobile. He brought his acoustic guitar and sang several songs. The featured music guests were also from Pensacola, Solomon Bozeman, and the Sounds of the Gulf Coast.

KPJR-TV57 — Denver, Colorado
(reaching over 1.5 million households)

Pastor Tony Davis was a featured guest for one of KPJR's great local Praise the Lord broadcasts. Pastor Tony has a dynamic testimony of being shot, dying for thirty minutes — and being raised up miraculously by God. Author of the best-selling book Heaven is Real and subject of the dramatic feature film The Miracle of Tony Davis, Pastor Tony inspired and challenged KPJR viewers with his powerful resurrection story.

A Beloved Ragamuffin Project

We also welcomed Reverend James Fry, executive director of Mean Street Ministry, an amazing Denver-area outreach that demonstrates Christ’s love by caring for and assisting the homeless and poor.

KPJR's Joy in Our Town public affairs program for November welcomed a number of informative guests including:

– Natalie Hicks, Director of Denver's Shelter Service, who shared information and tips on domestic violence. She also spoke about Denver's Safe House, which provides safe and secure emergency housing for women and children victimized by domestic violence.

– Military veterans Erin Wilkerson and Craig Schlattmann, who informed viewers about the struggles of being a homeless veteran in Colorado. Rocky Mountain Human Services helps more than 1,000 veteran households each year who are either homeless or in danger of homelessness throughout the state.

WBUY-TV40 — Memphis, Tennessee

(reaching more than 670,000 households)

WBUY's most recent local Praise the Lord program, hosted by Pastor Elliott Shelton, featured some great local pastors and ministries. Evangelist Latrice Ryan, Apostle Kevin Whitaker, and Evangelist Tina Tatum all ministered powerfully to viewers and the in-studio audience from the Word of God. Evangelist Ryan also discussed her outreach ministry Pretty in Pink, which teaches girls ages 12 to 18 about self-esteem and making wise decisions. Mary Patterson from the Pentecostal Heritage Connection discussed the legacy of the late Bishop C.H. Mason, founder of the Church of God in Christ, and to provide information about a historical marker honoring Bishop Mason in his hometown of Lexington, Mississippi.

Pastor Elliott Shelton interviews Evangelist Latrice Ryan.

Among the many guests in November for WBUY's Joy in Our Town public affairs program was Pastor DeAndre Brown from Life Line to Success, a local program that helps ex-offenders get back into the workforce after being incarcerated. Some of the participants from the program were present in the audience for the interview taping.

During November WBUY partnered with community groups that help to feed and clothe the homeless. We're also partnering with the Neighborhood Christian Center to provide toys for needy children for Christmas.

KTBO-TV14 — Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

(reaching over 730,000 households)

KTBO's local Praise the Lord program featured some anointed guests during November. Host Terry Bates, pastor of OKC Faith Church, welcomed Gary Stearman and Bob Ulrich with Prophecy Watchers, a new programmer locally on KTBO and internationally on TBN's Church Channel network. Pastor Bates also welcomed Gregg Johnson of J2 Ministry, which seeks to impact young people for Christ before they reach their teens, and Prophet Keith Douglas from Kingdom Ministries. Keith's wife Karen joined him with some powerful praise and worship.

Pastor Charles Martin hosted another impacting local Praise the Lord, welcoming special guest Jolecia Timmons from Integrity Voice Church to talk about how the Lord delivered her from the bondage of depression. Dynamic praise and worship was provided by Arnetta Yancey (pictured, above).

KTBO's Joy in Our Town guests for November included:

- Educator Susan Agel, who discussed OKC's Positive Tomorrows school and helping disadvantaged youth to be successful in school.
- Kurt Foreman with the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, who talked about the state of OKC's economy.
- Angela Walton with the Metropolitan Library System, who discussed the need to inspire children and youth with the desire to read.

Family counseling specialist Shelia Stinnett, who discussed counseling the youth of today in this turbulent world.

This Thanksgiving season KTBO and TBN provided the local SeeWorth Academy with over a dozen turkeys for families who would not otherwise be able to have a delicious Thanksgiving dinner. Other foods were provided by teachers of the school and community members. SeeWorth Academy, located just two miles from the KTBO studio, is a Charter School working with many young people who are underprivileged. The school's director, Janet Grigg, has such a compassion and love for all the approximately 450 young people attending the school.

WCLJ-TV42 — Indianapolis, Indiana

(reaching over one million households)

In November we welcomed a very special guest to our local WCLJ Praise the Lord program: Rick Alvis, president and CEO of Wheeler Mission Ministries in Indianapolis. Founded in 1893 to serve the homeless and needy in throughout the community, Wheeler is going strong 122 years later, reaching out to those in need and sharing Jesus in a variety of impacting ways.

WCLJ's own His Hand Extended outreach, well-known throughout the Indianapolis faith community, served over 590 needy individuals and families in November, providing food, clothing, and other necessities. Thanks to a local business partner, we received some much needed clothing for men. We also want to thank our many volunteers who help to make the His Hand Extended outreach run smoothly each month. Those volunteers include folks from around the community, as well as student volunteers from two area schools.

Among WCLJ's guests for Joy in Our Town in November was Sharon Blair, who lost her daughter Jennifer to a drug overdose. That tragedy moved Sharon to lobby for the passage of Indiana's "Jennifer Act," which requires facilities to treat those in the system who are suffering from substance abuse issues. Pictured at left is Sharon standing next to Indiana Governor Mike Pence as he signed the bill into law in 2012.

WDLI-TV17 — Cleveland, Ohio

(reaching 1.5 million households)

November's Praise the Lord at WDLI included a great program with Andre and Lamie Singfield, who told about the healing of their daughter Danae (pictured, left). Danae's body was twisted and at one point she was declared dead, but now to the glory of the Lord she is a thriving nine year old. We also had testimony from Alexander Pagani about his journey from a life sentence in prison to being the pastor of a growing church.

In November WDLI had the privilege to reach out to the needy through a partnership with Calvary Open Bible Church. We provided turkeys for the church's annual Thanksgiving Dinner to the community of Kenmore in Akron, Ohio. Calvary has been a blessing to the community with its food ministry and heart of giving.

Throughout November we had a number of great guests for WDLI's Joy in Our Town program and covered some important topics. Eric Stanbro, the head K9 trainer for the Canton Police Department, talked about how police dogs are trained and the many important duties they help with. Sarah Hackenbracht and Stacey Ortman from the Cuyahoga Health Access Partnership talked about the federal Affordable Care Act and how individuals and families can enroll for healthcare. Jeanette Mullane from the Stark County Board of Elections talked about voting requirements and board of elections procedures.

WELF-TV23 — Chattanooga, Tennessee

(reaching 360,000 households)

WELF's local Praise the Lord program in November featured host Ciby Thomas, one of the pastors at Calvary Assembly Church of God in Snellville, Georgia, who welcomed Pastor P.C. John from Nooranad, India to discuss the state of the church in India. Pastor John spoke about persecution of the church in India, and some of the miraculous things that happened while he and his team were traveling through villages preaching the gospel. He recalled that one man tried to attack him three times while he was preaching, but was prevented by the power of the Holy Spirit. The man was scared and shaking and extremely angry, but he and several of the village's worst persecutors ran from the village. The next day a messenger from the village was sent to Pastor John's hotel to ask him and his team to come back to the village because the remainder of the village wanted to get saved! This was truly a powerful Praise the Lord program.

Pastor Ciby Thomas and Pastor P.C. John from India.

WELF's Joy In Our Town civic affairs programs for this month featured Jens Christensen, director of the Chattanooga Community Kitchen. This time of year is very crucial to the homeless as the temperature drops and homeless shelters in the city are suffering from a shortage of space. Jens brought us up to date on the state of his organization and all the wonderful things that have been added to the Kitchen's programs this year.

We also welcomed Sabrina Vontress from the McClellan Family Shelter (pictured). This new facility can now house 13 families with children on any given night. One of the fastest growing populations of the homeless sector is families with children. Many people are only one paycheck away from homelessness and are forced to live in their cars with their children. This new facility opens up the chance for safe harbor for these families, as they search for permanent housing.

An example of the shelter provided by local churches.

Another Joy In Our Town health segment featured Cary Bayless of Family Promise of Chattanooga, Tennessee and Dalton, Georgia. Cary explained the unique partnership of this organization with over 50 local churches to provide temporary shelter for the homeless family population in our region. Since Chattanooga and Dalton have a shortage of space for homeless families, they have partnered up with local churches to utilize the Sunday school rooms of these buildings to house families. Each night for one week of the year, parishioners come and cook meals, play games, and provided fellowship to these families who are down and out while the organization works on finding these folks permanent housing.

WHLV-TV51 — Orlando, Florida (reaching over 1.5 million households)

Every month at WHLV we have the privilege of taping and airing our local Praise the Lord program featuring area pastors and ministers sharing their testimonies and inspiring us in our walk with the Lord. In November we welcomed Dr. Joel Breidenbaugh from First Baptist Sweetwater (pictured, right) as a guest, as well as Chris Walker from Cathedral of Power International Church and Evangelist Pablo Fonseca from the Perfect Harvest Ministry.

We also welcomed some incredible musicians to share their God given musical talents with us, including Mark Martin of Mark Martin Ministries, Steph Carse, Kim Baker, and Mary Sloan of Productive Rhythm. Click HERE to listen to Steph Carse and Kim Baker sing a beautiful rendition of "The Prayer" while viewing some beautiful scenes from our magnificent Holy Land Experience.

We had another wonderful month at our WHLV Studios producing our public affairs program, Joy in Our Town. Host Nick Kroger interviewed some fascinating guests, including Connie Johnson and Jessica Lawson from the Orlando-area chapter of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who brought a very special guest, Roxy the three legged dog (pictured, right). Together they discussed the important issue of animal cruelty and adopting pets who are unwanted by others.

WWRS-TV43 — Milwaukee, Wisconsin
(reaching 916,000 households)

One of our most impacting local Praise the Lord programs for November featured Pastor Skip Henderson and Milwaukee's World Outreach and Bible Training Center. Pastor Skip and his guests discussed the importance of controlling and disciplining our minds through the Word of God. We got some great feedback on this program.

Pastor Skip Henderson and the team at Milwaukee's World Outreach and Bible Training Center.

WWRS' Joy in Our Town featured a number of great guests discussing important community issues. Host Jackie Kahlhamer welcomed Willie L. Hines Jr, Associate Director of the Housing Authority of the City of Milwaukee. Host Jeanette Richardson welcomed Steve Fernan, Assistant Director for the Student Services Team with the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. Jeanette Richardson also hosted Mike Gosman, Franklin Cumberbatch, and Constance Alberts of the ACTS Housing Program to discuss area housing issues.

WKOI-TV43 — Richmond, Indiana
(reaching more than 1.5 million households)

Every month WKOI partners with Richmond's Gateway Church in its food pantry that reaches out to needy individuals and families throughout the community. WKOI furnishes the food pantry with nonperishable items that participants cannot get with food stamps. This month we provided bath tissue, paper towels, baby wipes, disposable razors, toothpaste, mouthwash, and fingernail clippers. Through the pantry we were able to help over 391 families in November.

Among the great guests for WKOI's Joy in Our Town program in November were:

- Tristyn Eppley from Envision Partnerships in Hamilton, Ohio who talked about gambling addiction.
- Noah Beiting from the Coalition for a Healthy, Safe, and Drug Free Greater Hamilton. Noah talked about preventing youth substance abuse.

– Pastor Mike and Bryn Kelly (pictured, right) from Restoring Lives International in Cincinnati, Ohio, who talked about the crucial connection between a healthy body and a healthy mind.

– Susan Sexton, founder of Unchained Praises in Winchester, Indiana. Susan spoke about substance abuse and the keys to overcoming addiction.

Pastor Lawrence Bishop II and Solid Rock praise team.

WKOI also had a full schedule of great local Praise the Lord programs in November. Among the great hosts and guests were Pastor Kendal Harris from Bethesda Worship Center in Richmond, Indiana; Pastor Marcus Mecum from 7 Hills Church in Florence, Kentucky; Pastor Todd Hoskins of Redemption Christian Tabernacle in Tipp City, Ohio; and Pastor Lawrence Bishop II from Solid Rock Church in Lebanon, Ohio.

WMCF-TV45 — Montgomery, Alabama

(reaching more than 242,000 households)

At the end of October WMCF Station Manager Aaron Motley (pictured, left) volunteered as a counselor at Judgement House, a Halloween “haunted house” alternative sponsored by Montgomery area churches. Over 3,500 individuals walked through the exhibit, and a total of 481 people came to faith in Christ as a result of this impacting outreach.

Pastor Paul Gourdine of Montgomery's Engaged Church hosted a tremendous Praise the Lord program, interviewing Dr. Rodney B. Jackson, a successful business consultant, who reminded viewers that “the greatest among us is the servant.” Dr. Jackson gave some outstanding tips on how to be a successful leader in the Kingdom of God.

Our Joy in Our Town broadcast for November included guest Dr. James Shikany, President of Medicine at the University of Alabama in Birmingham, who discussed the importance of healthy eating in fighting heart disease.

WRBJ-TV34 — Jackson, Mississippi

(reaching 335,000 households)

WRBJ staff participate each week in prayer at the Jackson City Hall, as we join pastors and city leaders in intercession for our city.

The WRBJ Joy in Our Town program features many community organizations, including heads of feeding, housing, homeless, and other helps ministries. Guests in November included representatives of the Mississippi School for the Blind, the Dyslexia Association, and MADCAAP feeding/clothing/housing ministry. Other guests included Voice of Calvary, Habitat for Humanity, Deliver Me, and CARA, an organization that rescues unwanted animals.

WTJP-TV60 — Birmingham, Alabama

(reaching more than 600,000 households)

Throughout the month of November WTJP produced a full compliment of local Praise the Lord, Joy in Our Town, and other programs for our Birmingham-areas viewers.

One of the highlights of our local Praise the Lord program was guest Jeremiah Castille (pictured), the chaplain of the University of Alabama football team. Jeremiah was an all-American football player at 'Bama, was voted MVP of the final game coached by the legendary Paul "Bear" Bryant, and had a successful career in the NFL. Jeremiah's youngest son, Caleb, plays the lead role in the blockbuster football movie Woodlawn.
