—Matt & Laurie
Laurie and I have been thinking about Communion quite a bit lately. That’s because our eyes have been opened to some powerful truths about “the Lord’s Supper”—truths we want to be sure our partners understand as well.

The fact is, every time we come across something that blesses and helps us, our first thought is, “Our friends need to know about this!” And this subject is one of those things we think you need to know more about.

IN REMEMBRANCE

“The Lord’s Supper.” We know this phrase from reading God’s Word. We know it from observing Communion at our churches. We certainly hear it every Resurrection Sunday. Some of us even remember those words being engraved on furniture at the front of the church’s sanctuary, on “the Communion table.”

These words are so familiar to us. But sometimes a thing can become too familiar. In the familiarity, important truths are lost or forgotten. We lose the significance. Laurie and I are convinced that for many Believers this is certainly true for Communion. We’d fallen into this trap ourselves. But recently we’ve rediscovered the power that’s available to us at the Lord’s Table.

Communion. The Lord’s Supper. The Lord’s Table. Whatever you choose to call it, pretty much every church shares Communion at some point. In some churches, it’s observed only on special occasions. Others do it monthly or weekly.

Communion is a powerful and significant opportunity to access by faith all that Jesus provided through His death, resurrection, and ascension to the throne in heaven.

As Believers, we are the recipients of the greatest gift ever given. When Jesus died on the cross as the sacrificial Lamb, initiating the New Covenant, He gave us access to an extraordinary array of benefits and blessings. The greatest of these is eternal life. But healing, restoration, and wholeness (spirit, soul, and body) here and now—in this life—are pretty great too!

When Jesus declared, “It is finished!”—He meant it. He had fulfilled everything the Law and the prophets had pointed to in the Old Testament. And He had accomplished everything necessary to redeem us from every aspect of the curse that had held Mankind captive since the Fall.

When Jesus declared, “It is finished!”—He meant it. He had fulfilled everything the Law and the prophets had pointed to in the Old Testament. And He had accomplished everything necessary to redeem us from every aspect of the curse that had held Mankind captive since the Fall.

This is why Bible teachers like Joseph Prince continually refer to “the finished work of the cross.” There is nothing left for Jesus. or the Father to do. Jesus has already provided for our healing and every other good thing. Taking Communion reminds us of that fact and stirs up our faith and expectancy.

HEALING, BLESSING, AND UNITY
We’ve heard Pastor Prince share many testimonies of people who have experienced supernatural healing simply by taking Communion while being mindful of all Jesus purchased for us on the cross. In fact, his latest book, Eat Your Way to Life and Health, is all about how to access Jesus’ healing power through Communion.

Communion is an amazing and wonderful opportunity, yet so few of God’s people are taking full advantage of it! But, with your help, dear partner, we’re out to change that. All this month we’ll be pointing the whole world to resources that will help them walk through this gateway to healing and blessing.

As you participate in that mission this month, we want to bless you with these resources too. This revelation has completely transformed the way we observe Communion. In addition to Joseph Prince, it’s not unusual to hear other TBN Bible teachers emphasize these truths as well. (We’ve included a few encouraging quotes from some of them.) But Pastor Prince’s resources on the subject are especially clear and helpful.

Finally, we want to remind you that Communion holds still another powerful spiritual benefit. It not only connects us to the finished work of Jesus, but it connects us to each other and to Believers all over the world. In Boston, Baghdad, Bangkok, Beijing, and Burkina Faso, Jesus-fans follow up take of the Lord’s Table, some of them doing so in secret and in great peril for their lives.

It’s amazing to think about how the redeeming blood of Jesus unites us all into one family. Your partnership with TBN grows and encourages that family every day. Thank you.

There is such healing power in the Holy Communion, but too many people have been robbed of this gift either because they do not know about it, or because they have been taught wrongly about what the Lord meant for it to be.”

“When I turned up the volume, that was the first time I met Jesus.”

Steven Setu came out of a bad relationship a couple of years ago and was in despair. Somehow, he became convinced the best way to “get over it” was just to end his life.

He’d never seen himself as the kind of person who would consider suicide; yet there he was, forming a plan to end his emotional torment by leaving this world. He wrote a long letter to all who loved him, explaining his need to end the pain. Steven then went to the kitchen and got a butcher knife. Back in his room, he put the knife to his throat, ready to end his life. In a final plea of desperation, he called, “God, if this is meant to happen, then let it happen. But if there is a real God out there, I want You to intervene immediately.”

In that instant, shouting from downstairs reminded him of his brother’s recent return home from work. “Steven! Steven! Steven!” his brother yelled, as though he were right there, but Steven was hurting. Somehow, he had convinced himself that was the first time he met Jesus.

When I turned up the volume, that was the first time I met Jesus.

Joel Osteen was speaking. For the first time, I heard about the grace of God. Pastor Joel said that even though it doesn’t make sense in the natural, you serve a good, supernatural God. “Let your heart beat again. There may have been a setback, but God has a comeback planned for you.”

From that moment, I knew my worth. From that moment, I knew my value. From that moment, I knew who Jesus Christ was. At the end of the message, the invitation came to give my heart to Jesus. I prayed with Pastor Joel, ‘Jesus, I repent of my sins. Come to Jesus.’ Chains were broken.

“Now I’m free ... and I’m a youth pastor,” Steven says. “Many lives are still being changed because TBN was there with exactly the message I needed, at exactly the right moment.”

Steven is grateful “to TBN—and all who make it possible” because so many people are finding salvation through this platform.

Steven shared his powerful testimony last year on TBN Pacific from the New Life Conference in Auckland, New Zealand.
