Hope Loftis hosted Laura Hobson (President and CEO, Faith Family Medical Center), Monty Burks (Director, Faith Based Initiatives for the Tennessee Department of Mental Health and

Monty Burks, Hope Loftis, and Steve Shates

Substance Abuse Services), and Steve Shates (Project Lifeline). Laura Hobson shared information about health care options that are available for low income families.

Many low income families do not have health insurance, which in turn has those families skip medical care altogether. Faith Family Medical Center helps those families with many services, including medicine, diagnostic lab testing, physical therapy, and counseling. Both Monty Burks and Steve Shates shared about the Faith Based Initiatives. Faith Based Initiatives are opportunities for places of worship and fellowship to support and strengthen families in their communities by offering recovery programs to help individuals beat their addictions. Both of these men had substance abuse in their pasts, and they use their experience to help churches and people in need.

Although we were not doing many productions on-site with the holidays, our post-production department has been in high gear. Three NEXT shows for JUCE TV were completed and delivered, with the rest of the series currently being edited. We are also working on several conferences that will be airing on TBN.
